CIVIL SOCIETY ORGANISATIONS' COMMUNIQUE ON THE AFRICAN UNION SUMMIT

We, the undersigned Civil Society Organisations in Africa and the Diaspora working in all five geographical regions of the continent, met on 5 and 6 June 2009, in our Fifth Citizens' Continental Conference to consider issues facing our leaders in the upcoming 13th Ordinary African Union Summit of Heads of State and Government. We welcome this opportunity to collectively reflect on the state of issues on the continent, and developments made since the last summit to allow us to communicate concrete recommendations to our Heads of State and Government.

In light of the theme of the upcoming 13th Ordinary Summit "Investing in Agriculture for Economic Growth and Food Security" and other agenda items, we would like to make the following recommendations on the issues of "Agriculture, Food Security and Financing for Development in Africa" and "Peace, Security and Human Rights in Africa"

We would like to thank the following partners for their sponsorship: The opinions expressed here are not necessarily those of our sponsors.

On the issue of Agriculture, food security and financing for development in Africa

Recalling African Union Summit decisions from Maputo in 2003, Sirte in 2004, Abuja in 2006 and Sharm El Sheikh in 2008- calling upon Member States to increase their investment in Agriculture as a strategy for sustainable economic growth and diversification, achieving food self-sufficiency, social protection and employment creation;

Noting in particular the commitments of the Heads of State and Government for the implementation of the Comprehensive Africa Agriculture Development Programme (CAADP) underlined in the report of the Joint Conference of African Union Ministers of Agriculture, Land and Livestock (CAMA/Min/Rpt(XI));

Recognizing also the possible adverse impacts of the global financial crisis, the food crisis, the fuel crisis and climate crisis on the effort of African countries to achieve food self-sufficiency through agricultural development

Recognizing further that the falling commodity prices, declining export revenue, contracting aid flows and significantly reduced private capital inflows into Africa translate into reduced public as well as private funding for investment in agriculture and related infrastructure

Affirming that attaining a standard of living for all citizens free from want, food insecurity and hunger is not an option but a duty enshrined in several international human rights laws. To this end, we commend and acknowledge the efforts of Heads of State and Government aimed at finding lasting solutions to end hunger and poverty;

Recognising that agriculture remains a vital pillar of Africa's development, and the need to provide to small-scale farmers affordable, accessible and adequate financing is a pre-requisite for sustainable agricultural transformation and food security in

Africa;

Concerned with the negative impacts that climate change will have with time if decisive and concrete actions are not taken;

Deeply concerned with the lack of due attention on the multi-functional role played by the agricultural sector in Africa in terms of its contribution to national and household food security, rural employment, income generation, government revenue and foreign exchange;

Noting that competition for land and other productive resources for bio-fuel production will exacerbate hunger and food insecurity on the continent;

Keenly aware that African governments are obliged to take positive actions to identify vulnerable groups, which include, but not limited to women, youth and indigenous communities and to implement policies to ensure their access to adequate food by facilitating their ability to feed themselves;

Understanding that the full potential of Africa's agricultural sector requires concerted efforts from African leaders, the private sector, Civil Society Organisations and the Diaspora;

We therefore make the following recommendations to the Heads of State and Government of Africa on the following issues: "Agricultural Financing", "Food Security and Land Management", "Climate Change, Agro-fuels and Agriculture", and "Land and Vulnerable groups"

1. To domesticate and implement the Maputo Declaration and make public a timetable with specific timeframes showing clear targets and benchmarks towards realising your commitments to spending at least 10 per cent of national budgets on agriculture as well as other CAADP

commitments

2. To invest more in rural infrastructure, rural education, public extension and training services for farmers, as well as taking greater steps to secure more equitable access to land and water, paying particular attention to the needs of women small scale farmers and to address the underlying causes of food crisis by addressing distributional issues and protect farmers from unfair pricing practices

3. To develop flexible legal instruments to simplify complex traditional or cultural laws, which recognise, reconcile, and reform gendered rights to use land, forests and their products

4. To protect African markets by enabling free circulation of local products within all the regions of Africa and integrate small farmers in regional value chains

5. To guarantee an adequate support mechanism of social protection programmes for farmers and vulnerable groups through subsidies, input schemes, access to affordable and accessible finance, access to expanded markets, sound infrastructure, value addition, agribusiness product upgrading, and post-harvest storage

6. To seek international compensation for the negative impact caused by climate change to Africa for a fair and effective climate adaptation. A significant portion of such funds should be specifically dedicated to support rural livelihoods, food security, and sustainable development.

7. To look for mechanisms to compensate African farmers who have been affected by natural disaster or man-made disasters including price volatility

8. To stop supply-driven agricultural development on the continent that are targeted at small-scale farmers and in turn promote effective farmer driven sustainable agro-ecological and distributive approaches

9. To stop policies that facilitate access and control over African natural resources and in particular land by multinational corporations and develop comprehensive national plans on bio-fuel production that reflect the interests of African people, as well as guarantee sustainable development and national sovereignty

10. To deliver a strong statement and be committed on the need for a comprehensive and multi-pronged approach to reduce under nutrition and ensuring food security ahead of the proposed world summit on food security in November 2009, and the standing Committee on Nutrition High level Meeting on Recapturing Malnutrition Reduction in September 2009

11. To protect the land of local communities and develop a system that will protect the environmental ecosystem against desertification including soil and water management to ensure food security

12. To ensure equity in distribution of land, small holder farming, market access in order to improve the product value chains

13. To set up mechanisms for the harmonisation of national, regional and continental agricultural frameworks as a starting point to establishing strong sectoral linkages with up-stream and down-stream industries

14. To address to the overall constraints to agricultural development at the national and regional level, including economic policy direction, inadequate investment in smallholder agriculture and absence of post-harvest support, markets and intra-regional trade

15. To ensure that agricultural policy is driven by critical stakeholders such as farmer organisations, civil society organisations and other disadvantaged groups
